7*:g trua thing t'^at most matters to us Is the tr^e ip.ng we nave the most use for, and there are surely many occssicns en which the truest thing of all is the necessity of the mind. Its simple necessity of feeling. Whether It feels In order to !eam of learns in o/der to feel, the event /$ the same; the side on which it shall most feel will 1)8 the side to which It will most incline,

James, .Vi»/<?> on Novelists, "George Sand, 1897,"